

Pulling on the Lead

If you are having trouble with a dog pulling on its lead here are some easy tips to consider. Very often a dog learns to pull so training is the only solution!

Sometimes choke & prong collars can damage a dogs' neck and often make pulling worse as the dog tries to escape the source of pain

A well made and fitted harness can work wonders to prevent your dog from pulling

Yanking your dog won't teach it anything except that you hurt him sometimes

STOP the lead slackens as he looks back at you, praise him then you can move on while the lead is still loose!

Katie Scott-Dyer

